

JIM RICHMOND

Jim Richmond serves as Deputy General Counsel for the Florida Department of Community Affairs and has been employed by the Agency since 1999. During that time, Mr. Richmond has provided legal services related to programs involved with building codes, emergency response, hazardous materials, grant programs and hurricane damage mitigation efforts. He specifically represents the Florida Building Commission, a collegial body charged with the obligation to adopt and maintain the Florida Building Code. Prior to working with the Department, Mr. Richmond practiced with a small private firm in the areas of local government law and trial practice in civil and criminal matters. In 2007, Mr. Richmond achieved board certification in the area of State and Federal Government and Administrative Practice, the highest level of evaluation by The Florida Bar of the competency and experience of attorneys.
